Welcome to the July/August Link

Those 'lazy hazy days of summer' seem to be taking a long time to arrive this year. However much we know we need the rain, when clouds threaten, we worry about all those carefully planned summer festivities. This issue of the Link is full of village and school events that will fill our diaries.

As we enjoy everything on offer in the months ahead, let's not forget to thank God for all those who work hard to enable all aspects of our life together to flourish – and of course pray for fine weather! The church is firmly at the heart of our communities, and I look forward to many a happy meeting under a clear blue summer sky!

Summer is also a time for moving on. For many of the pupils at our schools, it is not just the end of an academic year. It is a time when some must say good-bye and prepare to move to pastures new. We all wish them well as they look ahead to a future full of possibilities.

As the holidays beckon, I hope we can all take time to relax, sit back, and I hope, enjoy some lazy hazy days. Happy holidays!

We were delighted to have raised over £350 for Christian aid with our “Big brekkie”. The total was considerably boosted by commuters who gave generously when we held “Big Brekkie 2” at the station. They were surprised and pleased to encounter a 7am cup of coffee and pastry. And Mandy Yarnold and I were surprised and pleased that we managed to get up that early - we respect those of you who do it every day.....

We are also delighted to report the bell ringers won their Call Changes class in the Tonbridge District Striking Contest. We ring for many services and weddings and are very grateful to Steph Rueff for all her work training the new ringers. Steph works at Bore Place which this year is benefitting from the Rochester Diocese poverty and hope appeal for its work with disadvantaged people.

The parish lunches in the beautifully redecorated village hall continue to be popular and we would love to welcome new faces. If you would like to join us and need a lift do let me know on 07766 763124. The next lunch is on Thursday 11 July at 12 for 12.30.

And finally - the barn dance! The annual barn dance is on Saturday evening 7 September, starting at 7pm. The Roundhouse Folk (featuring our own Angela Purll) call and play for the dances and there is a barbecue, Larkins beer and - for the first time - a gin and prosecco bar! Do come along to dance, eat and meet your neighbours (not necessary to do all three!). Children love the dancing and the jelly! Tickets are on sale now through bookitbee.com/Hever or you can contact me for more information and tickets on 07766 763124

Four Elms

June 2019. The words “Thank God” are often banded about for things which seem to have worked well for us with little real thought of the true meaning.

June 6 1944 is a date for which we can genuinely say “Thank God”. D Day is one of the most significant dates in European history. An exceptional combined Task Force left for the invasion and the freeing of Europe from the appalling Nazi tyranny. I am certain we all said a prayer of thanks for the success of the D Day landings and remembered in our prayers the many servicemen and women and civilians who lost their lives for our freedom. Thank God for such bravery by so many for future generations who have lived in “European” peace since 1945.

St. Paul’s Four Elms had its usual 8am service for the early birds. We also had Parish Communion combined with Inspire and followed by the Rogation Sunday walk, beating the bounds, this year in Four Elms ably organised by Peter Titchmarsh. A delicious tea followed in Margaret Bates’ garden. Thank you Margaret.

We also celebrated the baptism of two children, Gregory and Eleanor. We welcome both of them into our family at St. Paul's. Café Church was attended by the Reverends Wendy and Simon, which concentrated on Pentecost. We had a full Parish Rooms and plenty of activities relating to Pentecost thanks to excellent activities by Caroline and Simon and thanks to Susie for accompanying us on her guitar for a new song.

July is the month of our most important fundraiser – the village fete. Do please support the Church Stalls where you can, either with bottles, cakes etc. or equally as necessary, help on the day. Many hands make light work!!!

Markbeech

Aah! We're singing my favourite hymn again which the Markbeech choir love to sing at this time of year:

'The summer days are come again;
Once more the glad earth yields
Her golden wealth of ripening grain,
And breath of clover fields,
And deepening shade of summer woods,
And glow of summer air,
And winging thoughts, and happy moods
Of love and joy and prayer.'

We are now in the midst of weddings, cricket festivals, folk festivals, garden jazz lunches and garden openings. All of which are integral to both village and church life. All of which display our happy moods of love and joy and prayer. We are so very blessed to live in this beautiful place!

Back to the business of Holy Trinity: last month we experimented with a projector rather than service sheets in our well attended family service. We learnt why they are hung from the ceiling rather than sat on the floor – you need to be 7 foot tall if you are at the back to read it!

Marielou and I attended the Archdeacon's Visitation in Christ Church Tunbridge Wells to pledge our allegiance as Churchwardens for the coming year. We had a very jolly Parish lunch stretching our quiche and frittata supplies somewhat – next time we will bake more! And finally our beloved church clock has been serviced!

Dates for your diary: Sunday 30th June Edenbridge Music & Arts Jazz at Saxby's Mead; Thursday 4th July 7.30pm PCC meeting at Saxby's Mead; Sunday 7th 12.30pm Village Lunch at School Cottage; 21st 9.15 am Family Service; 23rd 12.30pm Parish Lunch MBVH.

Four Elms Village Hall

The volunteers from the League of Friends have completed the levelling and seeding of the 'cleared' hall main garden with help from local farmer Chris Jones. An amazing transformation when you consider the 'jungle' that covered the area for years. I am sure it will prove an asset in years to come.

Saturday 4th May saw thirteen people arrive before 8am to 'barrow' and lay concrete to form a new disabled ramp and access path into the new garden, following several weeks of hard work forming the necessary shuttering and carrying out the necessary preparation work.

The trustees still need volunteers to form a hall cleaning rota, please phone or email me offers of help on the number below.

Medicine Past and Present - a personal view

Maybe the thoughts of a retired doctor looking at the present scene may be of some interest in our rapidly changing daily lives? I was a GP in Edenbridge from 1957-1992, finally retiring in 2000.

I started studying medicine in 1948 when we were just emerging from the privations of the last War. So my life and medical career have spanned the most momentous period of change ever in our understanding of illness and the treatment of disease from the pre-antibiotic era to the gene therapy of today. There have been so many changes to life generally and politically that the NHS has had to adapt continuously to medical progress and our patients' expectations. The old adage that "doctor knows best" is long gone as patients often know more about their illness than the doctor from searching the Internet! Indeed the Internet has enabled us all to become vastly more knowledgeable about everything, and this has dispelled a lot of the mystique of medicine which gave doctors in the past an aura of almost supernatural power in holding the key of life and death. I remember when I qualified as a doctor in 1954 as a callow youth of 24 I became aware that ordinary mortals regarded one as different and therefore entitled to an unwarranted degree of respect! Little did they know the depth of one's ignorance and their vulnerability.

This respect, and even deference, could evoke in the doctor a feeling of invincibility, but such is the complexity of our human frame that there is an ever present danger of doing more harm than good, and this keeps the doctor's cockiness in check!

Perhaps it would be interesting to list some of changes in medicine from those far off days to the present (not in any order of importance).

1. The European Working Time

Directive. (EWTD) This limits the hours a doctor can work to 48 hours a week. This compares with over 100 hours a week in my early days and for most of my career. This shorter working day accounts for the huge change in night and weekend working, and in the continuity of care which we older folks felt was the hallmark of good practice and of the satisfaction we and our patients derived from this old style practice. It has also destroyed the team working in hospitals which was so important in supporting and educating young doctors at the most vulnerable period of their lives. Perhaps Brexit may free the NHS from this damaging constraint.

2. Longevity The average life span today is 79 for men and 82 for women (they were always the tougher breed!). Since 1900 our life expectancy has more than doubled. Of course the longer we live the more medical problems we develop and the more complex is the treatment and the possible interaction of the drugs taken. The recent levelling off of our increasing life expectancy is giving cause for anxiety that we may at last be reaching the limit. In fact it is becoming increasingly difficult to die and a feeling arises that if we die it must be someone's fault!

3. Computerisation The advent of the computer has been a great overall benefit in medical care enabling accurate transferable record keeping, ready access to information about drug side effects and interactions and many other benefits.

4. Manpower shortages Overall there are over 100,000 unfilled vacancies in the NHS. This leads to stress and low morale as inadequate staff try to meet the demands of an increasing number of patients. This is aggravated by inadequate number of beds because over the years management has sought to limit expenditure by reducing the bed stock. These shortages in manpower are aggravated by many doctors seeking to retire early and by the inadequate numbers seeking to train as doctors or opting to specialise in general practice. The recent government initiative to recruit 20,000 extra staff to support GPs will further dilute the personal relationship between the doctor and his patients which my generation valued so highly.

5. Litigation In my generation, on the whole, patients trusted their doctors to do their best in caring for them, at the same time recognising that medicine is an inexact science and that there is risk in every action and treatment. Provided the doctor was perceived to have done his best, he might be forgiven for errors which might even lead to death. Today that forgiving attitude has completely gone and patients are very ready to sue if the outcome does not meet their expectation. The result is a wariness on the part of the patient, and vast sums being spent by the doctors and hospitals in defending themselves from an increasingly litigious public.

Despite the above medicine remains a great profession, full of challenges, endless fascination and sometimes great rewards, but inevitably sadness and loss at times.

Four Elms Fete

Saturday 13 July 2019 1pm

It's that time of the year again!! The Four Elms Village Fete in the Church Meadows. Much planning goes into the yearly event and we thank Montreal Estate for the use of their lovely meadow next to the Church.

Now in its 66th year, we marvel at how "the village" has managed to keep the event going for so long. It was started at the time of the Coronation in 1953 in the vicarage garden, by kind permission of the Reverend Penn, vicar of St. Paul's.

The Fete may have grown in size but the ethos stays the same. A village fete with traditional attractions where there is something for everyone to enjoy. This includes family races, family dog show, classic cars, a flypast, the wonderful Willerby Maze, Beer tent, Tea tent, BBQ and a whole lot more.

Please come and enjoy the afternoon. It's free entry if you arrive on foot, which we hope everyone from the village is able to do. Look out for the free delivery of the Fete Programme throughout Four Elms village during the week preceding the Fete.

Lotte Andrews – what I do

I qualified as a yoga teacher in Rishikesh, India. Since then, I have set up balancelotts Yoga Studio in Hever. I am not only a yoga teacher but also a private chef and potter.

My main belief is that if we fuel our bodies with the right components to aid creating balance in our lives whether its through diet or lifestyle, then we can enable ourselves to function to the best of our ability.

Aiding balance comes from yoga, twists, expansions and bends, energising the cells within our bodies, kick starting our digestion, giving us energy and strength to practise.

Sessions at balancelotts vary from strong Vinyasa flows to stretchy Hatha classes giving you the correct mix to harmonise the body; setting up balance in our bodies will give us balance in our lives.

Giving our bodies the correct starter kit to begin our yoga journey has been at the forefront of my thinking, a continuous process and infinite journey. For more information contact me on mail. lotts.co or 07950 614904

Hever village hall

“We all think the Hall looks GREAT”...was the totally unsolicited message attached to the payment for our regular weekly booking – The Table Tennis Group*.

It was ample reward for the effort put in over the weekend of the

17/20 May

by the Hall's management committee, their partners and friends, (including those who dropped by to cheer us on with homemade goodies), to redecorate the hall. Led professionally by 'Quality Decor', they toiled unstintingly for 3+days to produce the fresh look to our beloved hall, pictured above.

Vast quantities of paint, undercoat, top coat, tea and coffee were consumed in the magnificent effort, framing freshly washed and ironed curtains – all by the same team, on and off the premises.

Topping this herculean task came the news that the cost of materials consumed (about £350) was mainly met by the generous donation by Waitrose, of £323, raised by the green checkout tokens – contributed by the community. So sceptics beware, what started as a simple Chairman's request for a 'refresh' culminated into a massive spring clean joint redecoration effort, by a united Committee and Friends.

Just think what the same team can do in our future hall regeneration project to benefit the whole local community!.

Come to our Annual General Meeting on Wednesday 26 June to find out !

the barn owl

The most commonly heard owl is the “toowhit-twoo” call of the tawny owl, sometimes known as Brown Owl, the woodwind of all bird songs. Not so often heard is the “screech” of our most loved owl, the barn owl. With heart-shaped face, buff back and wings and white underparts, the barn owl is a distinctive and beautiful countryside bird. The broad, softly feathered wings, specially adapted for silent flight, spanning nearly three feet, enable the bird to fly slowly over grassland searching for prey.

Owls have a distinctive round or heart shaped facial disc which acts as a sound reflector helping the bird to hear the rustlings of small animals in long grass. Hunting becomes difficult in wet weather as their soft feathers easily become water logged. And the sound of rain can interfere with their hearing.

The Barn Owl's diet consists mainly of small mammals which are swallowed whole. But as they cannot digest fur and bone it is regurgitated in the form of a pellet. Analysis of pellets indicates that Short-tailed Field Voles comprise about 75% of the diet with other small mammals including bank voles, shrews and mice making up the remaining 25%.

Breeding can occur in most months of the year and two or even three broods may be reared. Clutch size and breeding success depends on the availability of main prey species, so there may be considerable year-to-year variation in breeding performance.

Four to seven white eggs are laid at intervals of two to three days. Incubation lasts 30-31 days but the female begins with the first egg. Young hatch at two to three-day intervals and are at different stages: the youngest may die if food is short. The young birds fly at 55-60 days.

A Barn Owl will typically eat 3-4 prey items a night. During the breeding season, a pair of Barn Owls will (ideally) find this amount for each owlet as well. This works out to almost 4,000 prey items a year to feed a pair and their offspring!

Unlike Tawny Owls, Barn Owls are not territorial and hunt over a large range. When breeding they can fly up to about 2km from the nest site but in winter this increases to up to 8km.

Barn owls tend to use traditional nesting sites in barns and outbuildings and sometimes holes in trees. The loss of such sites has contributed to their decline in the 20th century but the provision of artificial nest boxes has helped them recover.

We are involved in a local project, building and erecting wooden boxes, designed specifically to suit barn owls, erecting them on trees near good hunting habitat, which have so far been successful in supporting nesting barn owls.

news from Hever

I am immensely proud of our Year 6 children. They had their SAT tests in May and they all worked incredibly hard, showing all the skills they have learnt; their determination, enthusiasm and attitude was excellent. Well done Year 6 and get ready for your busy last half term at Hever including your end of term production 'OLIVER' which will be performed at Hever Castle! We will be bidding them farewell with a graduation worship and a social leavers' celebration.

We must not forget our Key Stage 1 children who have been involved in their Phonics revision and Year 2 SATs. They have worked hard and have been set to flourish in these tests. Results will be shared later this term. For the first time at Hever, there are 30 nursery and day-care children transitioning to reception class at the end of this term and I wish them a happy move.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the children for all their achievements and thank all parents for their continuous support. I am grateful to staff and governors for their commitment so generously offered to the school. I am delighted that Hever continues to maintain such high standards and has enjoyed another successful year.

Spanish is now taught from KS1 to Year 6 and we are proud of the progress children make during their time here. Students at Hever love learning the language, through songs, games and roleplays. We are currently celebrating our inaugural Year 6 trip to Seville which consolidated the children's learning. The children designed tourist information leaflets about the history of Seville. They researched the major sites, the Alcázar Palace, Christopher Columbus' tomb, the Bullring, amongst others and then took it in turns to act as guides for the group. They practised their Spanish, particularly when greeting locals and shopping in the market.

Children also wrote adventurous newspaper articles about the Dancing Horses of Andalucía in Jerez and had some fun at the beach in Cádiz. Our students were thrilled to visit the Flamenco Museum, before watching a spectacular show and then learning some dance steps. We are fortunate to have a fluent Spanish speaking teacher in the school, (the wonderful Mrs Tyrrell) and she is inspiring the children and our community to understand the importance and value of language.

Joanna Stratton

news from Four Elms

End of term

It's hard to believe we are approaching the end of the school year and the children have just a few more weeks of school left. But what busy weeks they are! Between now and the end of term we have lots to look forward to including the Four Elms Village fete, Sports Day, a Concert, the Year 6 trip to the Isle of Wight and the Year 4 trip to the Natural History museum for a 'Dinosnores' overnight adventure, our annual pupil awards and the Leavers' play and assembly.

Celebrating diversity

This term we started a new Rights Respecting campaign to raise awareness about diversity and the right to be treated fairly. By the end of the campaign, the children will understand that we are all different and will be able to talk about differences within the school and understand the terms 'discrimination' and 'stereotypes'. As part of this initiative, the children will wear odd, wacky socks as a symbol of diversity.

Dragons and rainforest adventures

Class Two have created their own dragons and these will be collated into a book which will be published for our school library as well as the Eden Centre. Class Four wrote rainforest adventure stories with Class Two children as their main characters. They then shared their stories with each other during reading buddy sessions.

Leavers' play

Traditionally, Class Four (years 5 and 6) put on an annual end of year production. This year, the children are performing 'The Lion King'. For inspiration, Class Four were lucky enough to travel to London to watch 'The Lion King' at the Lyceum, took part in a Disney dance workshop and even managed to see the Queen (yes, really, she was visiting a replica Sainsbury's store for retailer's 150th anniversary)!

Sporting news

Our sports clubs have continued to be busy with regular practices as well as competitions against other local primary schools. The teams always work hard and prove that grit and determination really is the key to success.

This term we have had excellent success with two new teams: gymnastics and rugby. We entered two gymnastics teams into a competition and our Class Three team have been invited to the finals!

Our tag rugby team won three out of five matches in a tournament recently and narrowly missed out on winning the others. Their ability to work as a team and their sportsmanship means they are a real credit to our school. Well done everyone!

Hever Parish Council

The next meeting of the Parish Council is on Tuesday 16th July in Hever Village Hall at 7.30. The planning sub-committee meets beforehand at 7pm. All welcome. And here are a few pieces of news:

- Neverworld Festival at Wilderness Farm was granted a premises licence in June. The festival, which runs from 1-4 August, is subject to noise and other restrictions following submissions from locals and those living very near to the site are again being offered discounted tickets.
- The Secretary of State has appointed a planning inspector to carry out an independent examination of the Sevenoaks Local Plan. This is a routine step in the progress of the plan which can be monitored via www.sevenoaks.gov.uk/localplanexamination
- Sevenoaks Council with Action with Communities in Rural Kent is currently working on a project to support village shops. Anyone interested in free support should visit the website: kentruralre-tailers.co.uk
- News from the station: there were 42,948 passenger journeys from/ to Hever Station last year. Following the disruption of Summer 2018 the rail companies have set up a passenger benefit fund with £15 million to spend and £30,000 has been allocated to Hever Station. Sevenoaks council news

A little over a year ago, I started penning this column to explain what I was up to on your behalf. Since then we've covered festivals and events, ensuring we get the right houses in the right places with the right infrastructure, fly-tipping, community awards, the planning process, rubbish and recycling, the District Council's budget, as well as setting out some of the challenges we face in the year ahead.

However out 'on the knocker' it's not uncommon for people to ask who councillors are and what they do. A perfectly reasonable question, and all the more so when we're asking for your support in an election! In short, your councillors are local people, volunteering their time and knowledge to make our patch even better. We use the same roads, the same facilities and pay the same taxes as you. During evenings and weekends we meet with residents, businesses, charities and government agencies to bring together anyone who can make a difference to the area.

Hever Parish Council is the most local of our councils, covering the three villages in the United Benefice. Sevenoaks District Council's area is a little larger, stretching from Swanley in the north to Cowden and our villages in the south, by way of Sevenoaks, Westerham, Edenbridge and their environs. Meanwhile Kent County Council takes in, yes, you guessed it, the county. By the way, none of these are related to the Parochial Church Council, which is an altogether different thing!

As one moves up the list, the scale, though not necessarily the importance, of the issues they consider increases. For example, County Councillors handle some expensive and often tricky issues such as adult social care, children's services, education and the safety of our roads. The District is perhaps more locally focussed with its remit covering areas like rubbish and recycling collection, planning, licensing taxis, and overseeing food hygiene standards. The Parish meanwhile manages some of the most visible things, such as the upkeep of our bus stops, the mowing of verges, and the building of the new playground in Four Elms, whilst also performing an invaluable role as extra eyes and ears for the first two authorities.

Together we work as a team to represent our area and your interests, striving to ensure your money is spent to the benefit of those we are elected to serve: you, your friends and your neighbours. As I've said before, whilst I would never claim it is perfect, the services local government provides on our behalf – at County, at District, and at Parish level – are in many respects the marks of, for want of a better term, a civilised society.

As ever, please do not hesitate to get in touch if there's anything with which I might be able to assist.

Gardening from Warren

Top tips for gardening in July.

This month is all about maintaining your blooms, nurturing your fruit plants, and providing your garden with the care it needs to prevent damage and drying out during the warmer months.

Pest problems

July often brings with it an infestation of aphids, especially if it's wet and warm. Squash those that you see or use a weak detergent spray or biological control such as nematodes to tackle them.

Build up diversity in the garden by growing a variety of plants that will attract beneficial insects and other wildlife, to create a healthy balance between pests and predators.

Thin-out your fruits

During peak gardening season, the favourable conditions for plant growth mean that fruit trees can abundantly over-produce. Large quantities of heavy fruits such as apples, pears and plums on the branches can often result in a final crop of disappointingly small fruits. This is due to the high demand put on the tree's resources and the limited sunlight penetrating its heavy branches. July is prime time to thin out your dense crops by removing any excess or damaged fruits from the plant, enabling it to develop a more evenly ripe crop of fruits.

Water, water, water

This is something that's easy to do, but easy to get wrong, and often the main problem is under watering. If you spray an area of planting for one minute and move on, the water is unlikely to have gone deeper than a few millimetres into the soil, so won't have penetrated anywhere near the roots.

You need to water like a rain cloud. One way to test this is to put a jam jar in among the plants you're watering and stop when there's about 2cm of water in the jar. That's likely to take about 10-20 minutes on each area, which is understandably daunting. It's one of the reasons why leaky hose systems, which deliver water to the soil via a porous hose and operate at the turn of a tap, are so appealing.

Feed the birds

Competition for food among birds can be intense, with so many young fledglings on the scene so remember to top up your bird and wildlife feeders and water containers. The warmer weather means that July is an especially important month to tend to nature and keep your garden abuzz with birds, bees and other wildlife. Birds in particular relish in gardeners' efforts, using bird baths to both hydrate and cool down through bathing in the water.
